

A CAREER ROADMAP FOR WOMEN IN CAREER TRANSITION

a two part workshop for women in all career stages; pivoting, re-entering, or re-inventing themselves

-- Know yourself, navigate with clarity & make choices in alignment with your internal compass (especially during a pandemic!) --

Monday and Wednesday, September 21 & 23
From 11am - 1pm CST

Attendance is limited! Register online by 6pm CST on 9/17!

Sessions will be held via Zoom. $325 to participate. Please purchase "Now What?" By Nicholas Lore prior to the workshop. Registration, payment, and confirmation are required to participate.

Kay Wigton McBrearty, a seasoned Career Coach has guided both young and experienced clients toward their desired career goals as an executive with Baxter for two decades, and as founder and CEO of Waterville Partners for over 15 years. Kay has supported clients across a wide range of roles: functions, industries, companies, and organizations and career stages.

Visit www.watervillepartners.com to register, scan the QR code, or email kay@watervillepartners.com for further details.

Birmingham
Works

A CAREER ROADMAP FOR WOMEN IN CAREER TRANSITION

a two part workshop for women in all career stages; pivoting, re-entering, or re-inventing themselves

-- Know yourself, navigate with clarity & make choices in alignment with your internal compass (especially during a pandemic!) --

WHO

Women seeking clarity about life planning beyond their current career situation. Women who are pondering career path fit and seeking tools to make that a reality while juggling other responsibilities and responsibilities...take time for you! Your future self deserves it.

WHERE

Your safety is a priority. Due to COVID-19, this year's workshop will be held via Zoom. After participants have completed registration, the workshop link will be provided via email.

WHY

Navigating careers can be challenging, even stressful. Many women are balancing multiple roles both inside and outside the home— and this was even before the pandemic. Join us to gain insights into your authentic self, which will enable you to navigate life with greater clarity and confidence during these challenging times. Let's change the tire on that moving car together...

DELIVERABLES

Assessment tools, interactive exercises, clarity about your unique internal compass, practical application of the decision making model, renewed self-confidence, permission to look at options in alignment with who you are, excitement for the future and all its possibilities, goals for your future, and tips to succeed despite an ongoing pandemic.

INVESTMENT

$325. Participants are required to purchase "Now What?" By Nicholas Lore prior to the workshop.

SIGN UP

There are several easy ways to register. Either visit www.watervillepartners.com, scan our QR code, or email Kay (kay@watervillepartners.com) for further information. Spots are secured once payment is received and confirmation is provided. Payment accepted through QuickPay, Zelle, or Apple Pay. Refunds are provided only when a waitlisted participant is available to fill your spot. Unable to make one of these dates? Gather a group of friends and contact Kay to explore a custom workshop. Individual coaching available under separate agreement and rates.

Birmingham
Works